Dulles Says Europe Lacks Warning Plan

U. S. Must Equip NATO Forces With Nuclear Weapons

WASHINGTON, Aug. 25 (AP)—Secretary of State Dulles said today that the Atlantic Alliance sorely lacks an integrated system to warn Western Europe of a possible Soviet air attack.

And he said the United States faces the problem of equipping the North Atlantic Treaty Organization forces with advanced defensive weapons—missiles and rockets capable of carrying nuclear warheads.

Have Serious Problem

"While we have created an effective force in being," Dulles said, "we still have some serious problems: Not yet sufficiently strong; an integrated air defense warning system is only today in process of being constructed; and we face the problem of equipping all of the NATO forces with advanced defensive weapons."

NATO members, he said, must continue to make sacrifices to meet the threat from a "despotic regime" in Russia which is "intensively building up its military power."

In the case of the United States this means maintaining military units in Europe and contributing "new weapons to keep up with the times, spare parts, replacements for present weapons" to Allied nations, he said.

Dulles discussed NATO in a statement introducing a new series of ABC-TV television programs dealing with the Atlantic Alliance—"College News Conference." His statement was filmed in advance and released by the State Department.

Two Basic Reasons

"There are two basic reasons for NATO," Dulles said, listing the first as "the military danger from Soviet Russia."

He added: "Then there is the second reason and that is: We everywhere must try to develop the unity and the dynamism of the free world. It is not enough just to be merely militarily secure. Of course, that is essential but that is a negative concept. We must be certain that freedom continues to exert an influence in the world because it produces so much for human good. This requires that the free people work together in fellowship."

Boy, 9, Escapes Plane Crash

COLUMBUS, Ohio, Aug. 25 (AP)—A Cincinnati-bound private airplane, apparently lost in a fog bank, crashed in a farm pasture near here today, killing the pilot and one of his passengers. The passenger's son was injured.

Killed were James W. Davis, 46, of Kittanning, Pa., pilot, and Donald Carney Sr., 32, of Vandergrift, Pa.

Carney's son, Donald Jr., 9, was taken to St. Anthony Hospital in nearby Reynoldsburg where he was reported in fair condition with a fractured right leg and left arm.

The boy, who was sitting in the rear of the single-engine Cessna 140, said the plane took off from an airport at Leeburg, Pa., north of Pittsburgh, this morning. He told highway patrolmen he was en route to visit his grandmother, Mrs. Frank Bates, in Cincinnati.

108 Million Votes

WASHINGTON, Aug. 25 (AP)—The Census Bureau estimated today that in the 1960 presidential election year there will be 108 million Americans of voting age. That is about four million more than in 1956 and seven million more than in 1952.

Agent Escapes Third Time In Train Collision

EDGEWOOD, Ill., Aug. 25 (AP)—Robert Evans, Illinois Central depot agent at Edgewood, escaped uninjured when a train crashed into his station today. It was the third time for him.

The locomotive and 10 cars of a northbound Illinois Central freight train left the rails at Edgewood, a junction point with the Baltimore & Ohio Railroad 22 miles south of Effingham in southern Illinois.

The pile-up demolished the station building. Evans, who had left his desk to check the train's passage, narrowly missed injury. No one was hurt in the accident. The cause was undetermined.

Traffic was blocked on both the Illinois Central and the Baltimore & Ohio tracks for several hours at the crossover.

Evans told state police that he was in the same building when it was less severely damaged by a train in 1956, and that another depot where he was on duty was smashed several years ago at Arcola, Ill.

Red Chinese Seek Trade Of Newspapermen

WASHINGTON, Aug. 25 (AP)—Communist China made a bid today to get its own reporters into the United States under a deal admitting American newsmen to the Chinese mainland. State Department officials promptly rejected the idea.

The move from Peiping was the first reaction of consequence in that quarter since Secretary of State Dulles announced Thursday that 24 U. S. newsmen would be granted passports valid for travel into Red China for a six-month trial period.

The American government's statement on the subject was emphatic at the time in barring an exchange with the Chinese Communists, saying: "It is to be understood that the United States will not accord reciprocal visas to Chinese bearing passports issued by the Chinese Communist regime."

State Department officials said today that this U. S. policy will stand and that they are not interested in any negotiation on the subject looking to a deal with Peiping.

Dulles' attitude on the whole problem was described as coming down to this: He would have preferred to maintain his iron-clad policy against Americans traveling to Red China. But pressures from news media and from Congress had become very heavy and as he told a news conference recently he was willing to make some compromise.

He is not willing, however, to pay a price, in admittance of Chinese Communist reporters, to get American newsmen onto the China mainland for the first time in eight years.

The Peiping bid was made in a New China News Agency dispatch monitored in Tokyo and by a Radio Peiping broadcast. These called for an exchange of newsmen but did not rule out admittance of the Americans if the Red Chinese part of the proposal fell through. In fact, Peiping apparently anticipated a rebuff and this indicated that the exchange suggestion may have been advanced primarily for propaganda purposes.

17-Hour Rescue Saves Man Trapped In Crevasse

LONGMIRE, Wash., Aug. 25 (AP)—A mountain climber with a shattered leg, who spent 12 hours in an icy, fog-shrouded crevasse of Kautz glacier on 14,408-foot Mt. Rainier, was rescued today in a harrowing, 17-hour operation.

George Sainsbury, 32, Bremerton, Wash., Boy Scout executive, was pronounced in surprisingly good shape after the ordeal.

Near exhaustion, however, were the rescuers who toiled hazardously without rest to get him off the glacier and bring him to stretcher down a 45-degree trail so dangerous it is attempted only by expert mountaineers at any time.

Dr. J. T. Turpin, of Bremerton, met the rescue party along the trail and accompanied Sainsbury to a hospital at Bremerton. He prepared to operate immediately on the climber's shattered left leg, saying he was certain it could be saved.

Sainsbury never lost consciousness. He expressed amazement that the rescue party arrived as soon as it did.

"The lucky thing was that I had no difficulty keeping my body temperature, because otherwise a guy can get really shaky," he said.

Syria Leader Vows Country To Stay Firm

Kuwait Talks With Nasser In Cairo; Resists Pressure

DAMASCUS, Syria, Aug. 25 (AP)—President Shukri Kuwaty flew home from Egypt today vowing Syria will stand firm "despite pressures and plots of imperialism, the West and America."

Kuwaty met for two hours with President Nasser in Cairo. He was warmly greeted on his arrival in Damascus by top-ranking army officers and cabinet ministers.

Kuwaty went to Cairo on a sudden flight a week ago amid reports he was about to resign because leftist officers led by Gen. Afif Bizry, a Communist, took control of the army. The reports were denied here.

Bizry Greets Kuwaty

Bizry, now chief of staff, was among the high officers greeting Kuwaty on his return.

Kuwaty repeated to newsmen at the Damascus airport his declaration that Syria will resist all pressure from imperialists.

He said Egypt was equally determined to resist and said the situation in Egypt was "good and strong, the same as in Syria."

Kuwaty has been considered the force keeping Syria from becoming a full-fledged Soviet satellite. He signed the decrees putting Bizry at the head of the Syrian army but some observers say pressure may have been put on him.

He arrived in Cairo earlier in the day from Alexandria, where he spent a week in a hospital for medical treatment.

Kuwaty first made his statement on resisting outside pressure in a talk with newsmen before leaving Alexandria.

Never Be Defeated

"All Arab nations unite in time of danger thereby giving us confidence we never will be defeated or harmed," he said.

Damascus radio, meanwhile, broadcast an interview by Bizry with Lebanese newsmen. The army leader said Zionism rather than communism poses the biggest threat to Syria.

Syria's position, he said, is one of non-alliance with either capitalism or communism.

"Communism does not threaten our safety but Zionism does," he said. "Our mission is to defend Syria and stand against the imperialists. My belief is that we should eliminate the threat of imperialism and Zionism and when we get rid of them we will have time to think of other problems."

He denied once more the army is running Syria and said the army does not interfere with government affairs.

Infiltrator Shot In UNEF Camp

RAFAH, Egypt, Aug. 25 (AP)—An armed Arab infiltrator was shot dead yesterday in a U.N. Emergency Force camp manned largely by Canadians. UNEF security officers reported today.

Maj. Ivor Stewart, camp security officer, said the Arab was apparently shot by his own comrades when they were taking lumber from an unguarded building in the camp. The Arab carried a sub-machine gun and wore a tattered Egyptian army uniform.

President Asks Less Than His Budget Listed

WASHINGTON, Aug. 25 (AP)—President Eisenhower asked Congress for $2,400,000,000 less in new appropriations than he listed in his January budget message, a tabulation of money bills for the 1957 session showed today.

Members of the budget-cutting groups in Congress were quick to take credit for much of this reduction, claiming that grass roots pressure they helped to generate forced the administration to revise its requests downward.

Sen. Byrd (D-Va.), for example, told a reporter, "I am confident that the people over the country who have been demanding economies, as well as members of Congress who have been doing the same thing, helped bring about this cut."

The President told Congress in his January budget message he intended to ask for $73,300,000,000 in appropriations for fiscal 1958 starting July 1, 1957.

The requests for various departments and agencies are submitted in about 15 separate bills. All of these have now been sent to the Capitol and the actual total of new spending authority asked turned out to be $70,900,000,000.

Major reductions as compared with the sums included in the budget message were:

535 million dollars in foreign aid. This in a sense was a bookkeeping cut. The administration reported that it had found about 535 million of unspent money from previous appropriations and agreed to reduce its request for new funds by this amount if authorized to use the unspent funds.

451 million dollars for federal grants for school construction. 450 millions in military construction items.

254 millions in agriculture programs. 136 millions in military spending other than construction.

100 millions in Veterans Administration spending.

50 millions for a depressed areas aid program. Here again Congress did not pass the authorization legislation.

500 millions put in the January budget as an allowance for contingencies but not used.

Warner Reportedly Loses $168,000

CANNES, France, Aug. 25 (AP)—Usually reliable sources said producer Jack Warner gambled out of the Palm Beach casino early today 40 million francs—$168,000—poorer.

Warner's reported loss was in the no-limit baccarat game which he put out of action only two weeks ago when he broke the bank and quit about 40 million francs ahead. He later dropped that bundle at the gambling casino in Monte Carlo, semiofficial sources said.

Princess Grace Expecting, Paper In London Says

LONDON, Aug. 25 (AP)—The Sunday Express said today Princess Grace of Monaco is expecting a baby by the end of December.

The paper said an official announcement would be made to this effect when Princess Grace and Prince Rainier return to Monaco next month from Switzerland.

The couple, who have one child, a daughter born in January, have recently denied reports another child is expected.

7 Persons Die In Auto Crash

BESSEMER, Ala., Aug. 25 (AP)—Seven persons died today in a head-on collision involving a car being chased by the highway patrol.

Six were killed outright and one died of injuries later. An eighth person, identified by patrolmen as the driver of the car being chased was listed in critical condition in a Birmingham hospital.

The collision occurred 3½ miles south of the Bessemer city limit on Ala. Rt. 20, formerly the Tuscaloosa-Birmingham highway.

The dead were identified as William E. Brooks, 31; his wife, Mrs. Stella Mae Brooks, 21; James Glaze, 33; Charles E. Chadwick, 21; Billy Gossett, 22; Gloria Robertson, about 20, and Greta Whitsett Jones, 22.

All were from the Bessemer area except Chadwick, who was from West Blocton, Ala.

Horace G. McCullars, 22, of Fairfield, Ala., is in critical condition. He was identified by the state highway patrol as the driver of the car being chased. His passengers were Chadwick, Gossett, Miss Robertson and Miss Jones.

Patrolman R. M. Miller said McCullars' car, under pursuit for speeding, swerved off the road on the right shoulder and then rammed head on into the other car, driven by Glaze.

Arabia Resumes Oil Shipments To Egypt Operations

CAIRO, Aug. 25 (AP)—Saudi Arabia has decided to resume oil shipments to Egypt, at least to fulfill orders already agreed upon, usually reliable informants said today.

The Saudis suddenly suspended shipments early this month after delivering 800,000 tons of more than a million tons promised. The Saudis were reported irritated over activities of Egyptian-backed trade unionists in Saudi oilfields. Informants said shipments now will be resumed to complete the present orders, with total value of 25 million dollars.

Harry Belafonte Reported Fair After Operation

NEW YORK, Aug. 25 (AP)—Singer Harry Belafonte was reported in fair condition today following an operation for a retinal detachment of the right eye.

The operation was performed yesterday by Dr. Edward Norton, who said the singer would remain at New York Hospital two to four weeks.

Belafonte entered the hospital Monday, canceling the last 10 days of a concert tour.

The retinal detachment was attributed to a childhood injury. The retina is the membrane which receives images through the lens of the eye.

Demos Shore Up In Bid For Congress Lead

WASHINGTON, Aug. 25 (AP)—Democrats have begun shoring up their lines against the increasing possibility they will have to surrender control of the Senate to the Republicans in January.

If their candidate wins Tuesday's special election in Wisconsin to fill the seat of the late GOP Sen. Joseph M. McCarthy, Republicans will pull up within one vote of the Senate's organization.

Any vacancy that occurred subsequently in the Democratic ranks that a Republican governor could fill by appointment would make the party division 48-48. In that case Vice President Nixon could break the tie in favor of the Republicans.

Without any fanfare and wherever possible, the Democrats have been quietly transferring patronage employees in the Senate to jobs where the Republicans would have more difficulty in uprooting them if the GOP gains control.

Sen. Knowland of California, the Republican leader has served notice on Sen. Lyndon B. Johnson of Texas, the Democratic leader, that the GOP will move to take over immediately any time Knowland can muster 48 votes.

This threat of Republican control was cited to Southern Democrats as one of the reasons why it might be to their advantage to go along with a civil rights bill in this session of Congress where the Democrats control both houses. The threat also spurred Democratic leaders in their efforts to get a bill passed now.

Knowland was pictured to Southern Democrats as likely to call around-the-clock sessions of the Senate in an attempt to break any filibuster that might develop if he became the majority leader.

If Republicans took over the Senate, first time since 1931 when the Democrats held the House and the Republicans the Senate.

The Democrats now hold a 233-200 majority in the House, with 2 vacancies.

Forest Fire Spreads Near Canada, Endangers Town

PLATTSBURGH, N.Y., Aug. 25 (AP)—A state of emergency was declared today and aid was summoned from two neighboring counties to fight a forest fire spreading stubbornly through scrub pine near the Canadian border.

However, the little village of Altona, threatened and partially evacuated last night, appeared safe for the time being. The flames today were pushing due west on a line south of the village of 400 population.

The state of emergency was declared by Mel Titus, Clinton County fire coordinator. County Sheriff Emmett Duquette declared a state of natural disaster.

Every volunteer fire company in Clinton County, with the exception of Plattsburgh, was assigned to fight the forest fire and additional help was called in from seven communities in Essex and Franklin counties. Other companies from Essex and Franklin

GI Strides Calmly Into Courtroom

Prosecution Says It's Willing To Lessen Charges

MAEBASHI, Japan, Monday, Aug. 26 (AP)—GI William S. Girard strode calmly into a Japanese court today for a historic trial on manslaughter charges before three black-robed Japanese judges. He stood ready to deny the charge.

The 22-year-old specialist 3. C. from Ottawa, Ill., was flanked by two U. S. Army majors as he walked the 30 yards from an American military police car across the gravelled courtyard and through the door of the courtroom.

The way was lined by Japanese and foreign cameramen.

Six minutes after Girard arrived from Camp Drew his three Japanese attorneys, led by Itsuro Hayashi, walked into the building.

May Lessen Charge

The prosecution disclosed it was ready to discuss a lesser charge than manslaughter with the defense. This might bring no more than a fine or a suspended sentence for the death of a Japanese woman, Mrs. Naka Sakai, on a U. S. firing range last Jan. 30.

A crowd of about 1,000 persons had gathered around the courthouse for Girard's arrival. The soldier was ushered first into a small, narrow room with a newly painted sign on the door reading in English "the accused."

Shortly after Girard's entrance, the provost marshal of Camp Drew, who had accompanied the soldier, departed saying "I left him in custody of Maj. Stanley Levin (Girard's Army legal adviser)."

Fifteen minutes after Girard's arrival, five Army sedans carrying official American observers arrived from Camp Drew.

The relatives of Mrs. Sakai, including a daughter, arrived at the court almost two hours before the trial began.

Dressed in summer uniform with his khaki shirt open at the throat, Girard sat about 10 feet from the judges as his case opened at 10 a.m. (8 p.m. EST).

Read Indictment

The first order of business was the reading of an indictment accusing Girard of inflicting bodily injury causing the death of Mrs. Sakai, one of a group of metal scavengers who had been picking up shells on the range.

She was fatally injured by an empty cartridge case propelled from a grenade launcher on Girard's rifle as he guarded a machine gun during a battle in firing last January.

The indictment described the rifle grenade launcher as a powerful weapon and emphasized that Girard had a reputation as a sharpshooter, having won the expert badge for superior marksmanship.

About 250 newsmen, and newsreel and television men surrounded the courthouse. Only 42 reporters were admitted to the small courtroom.

Police Identify Body Of Girl

CHICAGO, Aug. 25 (AP)—The father of a missing 15-year-old girl clung today to his belief the dismembered female body found in Lake Michigan was not that of his daughter.

Despite a police report indicating that Judith Mae Andersen had been shot, then butchered and parts of her body stuffed into an oil drum and smaller oil can, Ralph Andersen, the father said: "I still think something has happened to Judy, but this isn't it."

The disjected torso of a young woman was found in a 55-gallon drum in the lake at Montrose Harbor on the North Side Thursday. The head, one arm and two hands were found yesterday in a smaller container floating in the same general area.

Two oral surgeons examined the woman's mouth. They compared their findings with a dental chart compiled by Judith Mae's dentist, Dr. Mitchell Julissen. The oral surgeons decided the chart was that of the dead woman.

But the father told newsmen: "I can't believe its my daughter until Dr. Julissen identifies the teeth."

Dr. Julissen was vacationing at Eagle River, Wis. The chart used for the comparison was given to police by his son.

Judith Mae, a high school student, was last seen at 11 p.m. Aug. 16, leaving the home of a girl friend a block away from her West Side home.

ANSWERS TO BRIDGE QUIZ

Q. 1—As South you hold:
 AKQ 10 5 3 ♥AQJ 4 2 ♦K 5 ♠8

The bidding has proceeded:
 South West North East
 1 spade Pass 2 no trump Pass
 2 hearts Pass 3 spades Pass

What do you bid now?
 A.—Four no trump. The final destiny of this hand depends on the number of aces partner has. His initial response marks him with possession of the king of hearts and almost assuredly either the ace or queen of diamonds. If he shows two aces then you can bid a slam in spades with the assurance that at worst it will depend on finding a spade honor either in partner's hand or with East.

Q. 2—As South you hold:
 AK 9 4 ♥3 ♦AK 10 6 2 ♠AW 10 3

The bidding has proceeded:
 West North East South
 4 hearts Pass Pass Double
 4 spades Pass ?

What do you bid now?
 A.—Pass. Partner's four spade bid may be based upon a long weak suit where he feels sure that there is not adequate defense against four hearts. A slam effort therefore should not be made, for a contract of five spades is by no means safe. You must count on losing a heart, and even if partner's spades are solid, that does not necessarily mean that you can bring in the minor suits without the loss of a trick.

Q. 3—Your partner opens with two diamonds and you hold:
 AJ 10 8 6 4 ♥9 6 4 2 ♠A 5 4 3

What is your response?
 A.—Two no trump. A two spade bid is not acceptable, for the minimum bidable suit to justify a positive response to a two bid is five to the queen. A negative response should be made, and you may show the spades of the next round.

Q. 4—As South you hold:
 A 5 ♥9 8 ♦K Q J 6 4 3 ♠AK 10 6

The bidding has proceeded:
 South West North East
 1 diamond Pass 1 heart Pass
 1 clubs Pass 2 no trump Pass

What do you bid now?
 A.—Four diamonds. Partner has shown a fairly good hand which evinces fine and the bulk of your strength should be shown at this point. Partner may be able to bid a slam upon the basis of your jump or may permit you to bid a slam if he makes so bold as to show the ace of spades.

Q. 5—As South you hold:
 AJ 8 7 6 ♥5 2 ♦AK 10 8 ♠6 5 4

The bidding has proceeded:
 West North East South
 Pass Pass 1 heart 1 no trump Pass ?

What do you bid now?

A.—Two no trump. Your partner's one no trump overall should be shown the same respect that one gives an opening one no trump bid. You have a balanced hand with eight points, and the raise is indicated.

Q. 6—As South you hold:
 A 7 ♥AKJ 5 2 ♦AQ 10 6 ♠9 4 2

The bidding has proceeded:
 South West North East
 1 heart Pass 1 spade Pass

What do you bid now?
 A.—A rebid of two hearts would not be good tactics. Remember, a rebidable suit gives you the option to rebid it but places you under no obligation to do so. After all, partner can have a singleton heart and three or four diamonds. A bid of two diamonds is recommended.

Q. 7—As South you hold:
 A 10 7 4 2 ♥A 10 ♦AJ 10 4 2 ♠A 9

The bidding has proceeded:
 North East South West
 1 heart Pass 2 diamonds Pass

What do you bid now?
 A.—Your trump support is adequate to assist a rebid suit. Inasmuch as your hand represents the equivalent of a very sound opening bid, you should feel convinced that your side has a game, and the recommended procedure is contracting for game at this point by a bid of four hearts.

Q. 8—As South you hold:
 A 10 9 5 4 ♥KQ ♦AQ 9 8 3 ♠2

The bidding has proceeded:
 East South West North
 Pass 1 spade Double Redouble

What do you bid now?
 A.—When an opponent doubles your opening bid and partner redoubles, the accepted practice is to pass the response around to your partner. In this case, however, we recommend a bid of two diamonds. With your unbalanced hand you are not the least bit interested in hearing a penalty double, and this is the most convenient time to describe the type of hand you hold.

Robert Louis Stevenson is believed to have patterned his Long John Silver character after an English poet, William Henley. Long John was the famous pirate in Stevenson's Treasure Island.

The strangler fir, which grows in southern Florida, begins life in the top of another tree, grows downward and, when rooted, will choke the life out of the other tree.

Go easy in tweezing the eyebrows, for every hair counts.

Secrets Of Charm

by John Robert Powers

Your Expression Marks

Lovely eyebrows are the expression marks of the face. Neglect them and see how quickly you detract from your beauty quotient.

We have seen too many women who have plucked their eyebrows in a thin line which often gives them a pained expression. The saddest part of it all is when these women discover that the brows won't grow back. Too late they have learned that they have deprived themselves of a natural beauty asset.

Nature gave us eyebrows for a reason—they are there to protect the eyes. The tiny hairs screen out much of the dust which would otherwise fall into the precious eyes.

In addition, the eyebrows intercept strong light from overhead and act as a natural shade. Eyes without the protection of brows will have the light going directly into them. That is why many athletes, such as ballplayers, circle their eyes with smudges of black. This keeps the sun's glare from affecting their vision.

You want eyebrows that are generous of width, growth, and color—the kind that extend from above the inside corner of the eye to the outer end of the eye socket. When they're just not made-to-order to suit you, you can pluck a few of the lower edge of the brow—just the stragglers.

Before you start, however, run cotton dampened with skin freshener over the brows. Be sure to stand in a strong light before your magnifying mirror and pluck these stray hairs in the direction of the hair growth. Then, groom your brows with a clean, dry brush.

They study at Notre Dame, too. Producer Owen Murphy, an old Notre Dame boy, has made a beautiful half-hour color film that bears out what we have been told for years: that football is but a cog in the vast machinery of the famed South Bend, Ind., institution.

We previewed the film the other day and it's a fine and stirring picture of Notre Dame as a whole. Breath-taking changes are taking place on the old campus and they have nothing to do with "agitating a bag of wind," as a famed educator once called the game of football. Matter of fact, football last year accounted for only $300,000 of the needed $15,000,000 university budget.

The film is available to your local TV station or to club groups. Write to a nice fellow named Rev. Theodore M. Hesberg, the president of Notre Dame, and he'll send you a print to show. It's like a breath of fresh air.

Maryland Sets Conference With Virginia

Will Discuss Mutual Problems

BALTIMORE, Aug. 25 (AP) — The governments of Maryland and Virginia will try tomorrow to find common grounds for compromising divergent philosophies on drinking, gambling, fishing and fireworks.

The ambitious attempt will be made by the two state Legislative Councils and the governors, Thomas B. Stanley of Virginia and Theodore R. McKeldin of Maryland.

They have given themselves comparatively little time. The session will start at 10 a. m. and about 4:30 p. m. they plan to adjourn for supper and a cruise on the state yacht Potomac to Annapolis.

License Interest

Virginia's main interest at the conference will be the issuance by Maryland counties of liquor and slot machine licenses to establishments on the Virginia shore of the Potomac River.

It could be done because Maryland owns the Potomac River. Although half a dozen licenses had been granted to piers without much notice, the situation was spotlighted this summer by establishment of a converted ferry boat off Freestone Point, Va.

Legislative endeavors to change the conditions face many ramifications.

In the first place, Virginia doesn't allow whisky drinking by the glass and Maryland believes in local option. The same goes for slot machines.

While only two counties, St. Marys and Charles, are involved in the Potomac River question, three other Maryland counties also permit slot machines and have come to rely heavily on them for revenue.

John Boatwright, secretary of the Virginia Legislative Council, had included on tomorrow's agenda a proposal for joint legislative control of the Potomac River relating to liquor and gambling.

Favor Home Rule

Maryland legislators jealous of county home rule are expected to be dubious about such action.

When the idea of the conference on Virginia's concern in the Potomac River was broached, some Maryland legislators saw in it an opportunity to bargain on fishing in the Chesapeake Bay.

The Maryland Legislature years ago asked Virginia to set up a joint commission on the Chesapeake Bay which fishermen of both states use. Virginia ignored the offer.

So one item on the agenda is a closed season on catching sheep (pregnant) crabs, licensing of fishing nets, and restrictions on the location and number of crab pots in the Chesapeake Bay.

Maryland has all of these, Virginia none.

Maryland also placed on the agenda the sale of fireworks which it bans and Virginia permits.

For good measure, the Maryland legislators also put down for discussion pollution in the Potomac River. Just last week, Virginia declined to send representatives to a meeting on the same problem attended by Maryland District of Columbia officials although it was held in its state at Charlottesville.

Tri-County Fair Will Include Jousting Event

PETERSBURG — A jousting tournament has been scheduled for Saturday afternoon, September 14, as part of the activities of the annual Tri-County Fair here.

William Harper, Moorefield, has been named chairman of the tournament committee by Tri-County Fair officials.

Harper is enthusiastic about having a good field of "Knights" entered in the tournament, and urges all horsemen who wish to enter to register with him before Monday, September 9.

The jousting tournament is a colorful sport passed down from the days of chivalry, and there has been a very lively interest in the revival of this sport in the South Branch Valley in recent years.

The winner of the tournament will crown his "Queen of Love and Beauty" at coronation ceremonies preceding the grandstand show that evening at the Petersburg Fairgrounds.

The four runners-up in the tournament will choose the first, second, third and fourth maids. There will be prizes for the queen and each of the maids, in addition to a prize for outstanding horsemanship.

Knights will ride three times for one and a half inch rings; ties will be decided with one inch, three-quarter inch and half-inch rings. Knights will wear the traditional white shirts and trousers, with color wide sashes of their respective bands down the trouser leg and county colors.

Lances will be nine inches long, and the height of the ring will be the rider's choice.

The names under which the knights ride usually reflect his home place, with such romantic and colorful names as "Knight of Old Fields," "Knight of Green Valley" appearing on the lists.

Tournament riding requires a great deal of skill on the part of the rider as well as his horse, Harper pointed out.

The jousting tournament will be an event of the fourth day of the Tri-County Fair, which is being held here Wednesday, September 11, through Saturday, September 14.

A full schedule of events has been planned for the fair. In addition to the many agricultural, domestic and industrial exhibits, there will be grandstand shows each afternoon and evening; a fireworks parade and a horse show Friday, September 14.

Teentown Plans Annual Session

FROSTBURG — The annual meeting of Teentown will be held in the clubrooms of the organization on the third floor of the Firemen's Hall, South Water Street, Tuesday at 7:30 p. m.

New officers and directors will be nominated and elected at this meeting, to serve for the coming year.

Howard Duckworth, president of Teentown Adult Advisory Board, urges all persons interested in the welfare of young people to attend this meeting. It is not necessary that a person have a youngster attending Teentown to attend these meetings.

In order to keep the organization functioning properly it will be necessary for a number of new leaders, with new ideas and enthusiasm to become affiliated with the group each year. Some of the organizers and "spark plugs" of the movement have moved away, or for some other reason are no longer active in the movement. In order to keep such a large project as this efficient, an enthusiastic and active governing board is a necessity, Mr. Duckworth stated.

Will The Fans Move West Too?

Its westward flight is taking big league baseball all the way to the West Coast. Next year the National League's Giants will set up business in San Francisco after 74 years in New York where they compiled a record of 17 firsts in league races and captured five world's series. Predictions are all but unanimous that the Giants will win greater support in San Francisco.

The giants are the fourth team to seek new pastures in recent years. Brooklyn still may decide to make a change — to Los Angeles — before the 1958 season opens.

This shifting about of big league franchises is symptomatic of the straits which organized baseball finds itself in. While it is trying to work out its problems by moving its team about, some practical problems are thus raised. Distances between cities where the teams play are longer. But most of the clubs now travel by plane. In earlier days trips between cities that were farthest apart, even though the circuits were more concentrated, took twice as long by train.

There also is the worry about the hazards, real or imagined, of air travel. Some stars in the past have refused to travel by plane. And will club risk moving entire teams in a single ship in the face of the possibility of a single mishap wiping them out?

Night games on the West Coast will present problems for eastern television fans, because of the time differential, if such coverage is attempted. Will the rabid eastern fan have to go to bed not knowing how his team makes out?

These Days

Changing Ideas

I know a man who once believed that he was worth $50,000,000. His accountants could prove it to him. When he invested here or there or spent great sums for this or that, there was no question but his signature on a check was good for millions. So he headed great corporations and cut quite a figure in the world.

Then conditions changed and he was no longer worth $50,000,000. Maybe only $10 or $15 millions. It became more difficult for the accountants to prove their point because the value of the equities fluctuated, depending too much on the kind of legislation that Congress passed.

However, there was plenty in the till and it hardly really makes much difference whether one has $5,000,000 or $50,000,000 because after 50, one has to live on a diet anyhow and the dames are too dull to bother about and household management has become fixed and dinner parties are too often boring — so one becomes a philosopher, reads learned books, takes up a hobby and works harder than ever. That is exactly what my friend did.

When he was very, very rich, so that men spoke his name in awe, he seemed almost to be worried lest he lose his money. He got ulcers and coronaries and all the troubles that come to those who work hard and accumulate much and who have never learned how to relax and to trust to God, but now that the fortune, which his auditors had calculated, is no longer of such vast dimensions and may grow very much smaller until it can only provide a middle-class competence, there is nothing to worry about. All the worrying has been completed and it has changed nothing.

Also, he noticed that when he was on the up-grade, clever people attached themselves to him, like fungi, with the object of being put on the payroll of his enormous holdings. The clever people, public relations counsel, industrial relations counsel, etc., etc., always find rich men whom they can advise because the rich men, particularly those who are what one calls self-made, are shy and a little frightened and in search of advice. So they hire it.

Sometimes they get their money's worth and sometimes they get involved in all sorts of intrigues. The raiders have found it advantageous to deal with these brilliant minds who talk a lot; tell secrets out of school and play both ends to their own advantage. Out of that the brilliant ones earn a fairly good living.

If they cannot attach themselves to millionaires, there is always a foreign government to provide an expense account, or some foreigners who are looking at American industries to take them over, or even some who want to get back what was confiscated during the war.

There is always a dollar to be made out of other people's problems and it is surprising to see how these various counsels run all over the Earth giving advice. One sometimes wonders, why, if these counsels are so smart, they do not do something constructive themselves.

The capitalist system thrives only on initiative. Ingenuity, competence and a profound sense of personal integrity (credit) and managerial capacity. When the capitalist system becomes bureaucratic, it always stifles itself and ceases to be useful. When there is actually no difference between a foreman who gets $7,500 a year and a vice president who gets $12,000 a year, except the white collar and imitation Brooks Brothers suit, the process of proletarianization has set in. When I say "no difference," I mean that the additional income, after taxes and after the High Cost of Living, brings them closer together in advantages and opportunities.

Surely personal integrity becomes less important when it is obvious that those who engage in marginal economic activities such as raiding, trading through Switzerland or other depositories of hidden capital are getting most of the material benefits of an inflationary period. Also the hopes of the small businessmen are shattered by tight credit, cartelization (called amalgamations and mergers) and the trend toward monopoly. So why does one worry about how much money he has when the real problem is to find personal contentment and sufficient peace of mind to survive these troubled times?

As my friend said: "What does a million more or less mean if you can sleep nights?"

BONN, Germany

Lingering doubts about the value of political reporting practiced at ranges of several thousand miles are the main reason for this reporter's grimly peripatetic life. It is a bit embarrassing, therefore to be writing in this smug little capital of West Germany about distant Damascus, smiling and rocking in its lovely oasis.

All the same, most of the participants in the left-wing coup d'etat in Syria are old friends, as it were. Not having a word to say about the great change in their fortunes in these last days, which one saw in the making on the spot only a few months ago, would be like omitting the customary letter to a newly married or promoted college classmate. Even from this distance, too, it is abundantly clear that what has happened in Syria is very important indeed.

Some kind of coup d'etat in Damascus of course became inevitable as soon as the take-over of neighboring Jordan by the Egyptians and the Communists was so brilliantly defeated by young King Hussein. What happened in Jordan encouraged the Syrian conservatives and moderates, and frightened the Syrian leftists and pro-Egyptians. Neither side was willing, any longer, to tolerate the uneasy balance, with Left in control but not in absolute control, that had previously prevailed.

Unhappily, as this reporter wrote from Damascus in May, the Syrian moderates and conservatives enjoyed the approximate degree of animation of dead fish on a slab. Like dead fish prepared by the fishmonger, they also lacked guts. Hence, the betting, even then, was all for a leftist success in the coup d'etat that one could so clearly see ahead.

The really interesting point about the new Syrian coup d'etat, therefore, is not the fact of a leftist victory. The really interesting point is the indication of a deep change in the lost balance of power between the Syrian leftist parties. The Communists clearly seem to have made important gains at the expense of the extreme left-wing, pro-Egyptian but non-Communists who were formerly in the saddle.

As late as last spring, the two real rulers of Syria were both non-Communists of the extreme left-wing and pro-Egyptian brand. The civil ruler was the able and dynamic ruler of the Ba'ath Party, Ahrum Haurani. The military ruler was the head of Army Intelligence, Col. Abdel Hamid Serraj. At that time Syria's Communist chieftain, Kahlid Bagdash, appeared to be very much Ahrum Haurani's junior partner. Furthermore, it was authoritatively said that there were no Communists in the Army at all, with the single exception of Col. Afif Bizry. Col. Bizry and Col. Amin Nufouri enjoyed great notoriety as the judges who had pronounced death sentences in a Moscow-style "treason" trial of Syrian right-wingers during the winter. Col. Nufouri was further celebrated as the special enemy and rival of Col. Abdel Hamid Serraj.

By Joseph Alsop

Baering Down On The News

By Arthur "Bugs" Baer

Nobody can get more mileage out of gasoline than a librarian gets out of a ladder.

I was looking up the people versus the people in the historic tax case of Shay's donnybrook in Springfield, 1787. The records show Massachusetts didn't like taxation with or without representation.

Washington's soldiers hadn't been paid. Congress staked each state to permission to spoon up its own taxes. Danny Shay raised a pool-room army and captured Worcester.

It was the first squawk against accelerated tithes and preceded the Pennsylvania Whisky Rebellion by seven years. The idea was the same. The Pennsylvanians didn't want their breaths taxed. The Keystoneers put 16,000 rebels in the field against the 1,000 led by Captain Shays. It was a triumph of the barroom over the billiard parlor.

Everybody was captured, everybody condemned and everybody pardoned. That's when the librarian's ladder jumped its tracks.

It indicates the only thing surer about taxes is they're going to collect 'em.

The leader of the Pennsylvanians was Al Gallatin. They punished Al by making him Secretary of the Treasury. His job was collecting taxes. Last seen of the librarian she was on stilts.

Heat Rash Caused By Plugged Sweat Glands

By Dr. Theodore R. Van Dellen

Prickly heat occurs when the skin is unable to cope with excessive heat and humidity. The sweat glands go on strike when the body needs them most. The ensuing dermatitis is an outward manifestation of a disturbance of the heat mechanism.

This disorder has been recognized for centuries. A Dutch physician, working in Java more than 300 years ago, was one of the first to associate the condition with the sweat glands. He noted that the newcomer to the tropics was more susceptible than those who had lived there for some time.

During World War II, when many of the service men were assigned to tropical areas, this became apparent. Much of our present knowledge of heat rash stems from research done by our army and navy medical departments. The number of soldier victims dropped considerably after they had lived in hot regions four to five months.

The typical lesions consist of tiny bumps resembling goose flesh. Each swelling represents a closed sweat pore containing horny material and other skin debris. The neck, trunk, abdomen, and upper arms, are most likely to be affected but the face and lower extremities usually are spared.

Prickly heat is more common among those who wear tight fitting, poorly ventilated clothing. But soldiers who wore shorts developed the condition, which means that some individuals are more susceptible than others. No race is exempt, although the dark skinned are bothered less.

The healthy and robust are good candidates, especially when they sweat profusely. The sufferer usually has a high concentration of salt in the perspiration.

The rash is temporary and disappears after the individual becomes acclimated to the heat. It is minimized by wearing lighter clothing and by decreasing activity in a hot environment. Few escape after living and working for three days in a temperature in excess of 90 degrees F.

Cool baths keep the skin clean, remove obstructing plugs from the pores, and give the sweat glands a rest. Talcum powder and fewer garments help reduce perspiration. This is especially true with infants. Air conditioning is a boon to prickly heat sufferers.

Gambler Helped Hoffa Retain Friend Of Judge's Brother As His Lawyer

By Drew Pearson

WASHINGTON—A further link between the teamster empire of Jimmy Hoffa and the empire of the underworld was revealed in the manner in which Hoffa reached down into Hot Springs, Ark., to hire an obscure Arkansas State Senator as one of his attorneys.

This column has already revealed how A. D. Shelton, brother of the judge who presided over the Hoffa trial in Washington, discussed the Hoffa case with Arkansas State Senator Q. Byrum Hurst, and how Shelton came to Washington in advance of the Hoffa trial where he talked to his sister, Judge Burnita Shelton Matthews.

However, here is more information on how the Hoffa defense happened to go all the way to Arkansas, home state of Sen. John McClellan, for an attorney.

The man who arranged for the retention of Hurst was Ralph Pierce, a Chicago gambler who also lives part of the time in Hot Springs.

Pierce is referred to in the Kefauver crime hearings as a member of the Capone syndicate and owner of the Silver Bar at 400 South LaSalle Street in Chicago, also an associate of Paul "The Waiter" Ricca. It has now been disclosed by the Senate Rackets Committee that Hoffa's Midwest teamsters spent $150,000 of union funds to buy the Lake Michigan mansion of gangster Ricca.

To get more details on how an Arkansas State Senator was pulled into the Hoffa trial, I phoned Senator Hurst in Hot Springs and asked him about the circumstances under which he had been retained.

Q. Byrum Hurst's Story

"I have always been a great friend of labor," he replied. "I have known Odell Smith of the Arkansas Teamsters, and once represented the International Woodworkers."

"Isn't it a fact that Ralph Pierce arranged for you to represent Hoffa?" I asked.

"Where did you hear that?" Senator Hurst blurted. He said he knew Pierce, but declined to elaborate on his relationship further.

"How much were you paid for your legal services in Washington?" I asked.

"Nothing, not a cent. I'm sending George Fitzgerald (Hoffa's Michigan counsel) a bill for my expenses — about $2,500. But I don't know that I'll charge anything at all."

"I was happy to come to Washington," the affable Arkansas State Senator continued. "I come up there frequently, have to try cases in Washington from time to time."

"What kind of cases?"

"I just had two divorce cases there last winter."

"Just what did you do for Mr. Hoffa at the trial?" I asked.

What did you do other than have the judge's brother come to Washington to talk to the judge?"

"You got me wrong on that," Senator Hurst replied. That wasn't why I was retained."

Then what did you do at the trial?"

I sat there and listened, and when I thought of a question that ought to be asked, I wrote it down on a little piece of paper."

Clemson Foregoes Cash

It's suspected that some Southern colleges didn't read the fine print in a contract with the government involving segregation and may decide to return several million dollars being advanced them on "educational" contracts by the Atomic Energy Commission.

One college, Clemson in South Carolina, has already returned a $99,050 contract to Washington rather than comply with federal integration requirements.

What happened was that the AEC is giving federal funds to various universities in order to promote atomic education. The United States has been falling behind Russia in the race to develop atomic scientists, so the AEC is helping colleges buy atomic reactors and laboratory equipment, and is also granting fellowships and endowments totalling $8,000,000.

Stipulated in the government contract, however, is the proviso that "no person shall be barred from participation or be subject of other unfavorable discrimination on the basis of race, creed, color, or religion."

At least ten Southern colleges have signed up and are receiving atomic energy aids. Only one of them, Clemson, has returned its grant so far.

Those which have agreed to go along with the anti-segregation clause and are getting AEC help include:

North Carolina State University receiving $202,000; Miami University ($5,900); Virginia Polytechnic Institute ($159,700); University of Florida ($225,550); Georgia Tech ($34,000); University of Texas ($74,500); Texas A&M ($158,000); Rice Institute ($121,350); University of Tennessee ($97,350); and Alabama Poly ($74,800).

No Gluck He

Unlike Maxwell Gluck, the much publicized political ambassador to Ceylon, James D. Zellerbach, Ike's new ambassador to Italy, knows a whale of a lot about the country to which he is appointed. Zellerbach contributed to the Republican party, but he also spent several years in Italy, appointed by Truman to administer the Marshall Plan. He knows Italy intimately, has a genuine affection for its people.

Home on leave at his own expense, Ambassador Zellerbach paid tribute to the old pro-Democrat leaders of Italy, including the late Premier De Gasperi, for starting Italy's comeback.

"It started under the Marshall Plan," he explained. "At the time I left Italy there were over 120 'bonification' plans which provided for erosion control, irrigation, reforestation, and housing. I have recently visited some of the projects that we started when we were there with the Marshall Plan, and they have done great things for Italy."

How old can a man be and still become a father? Such is the query of a Philadelphia husband, who gives his age as 74. Dr. B. Belonosskiss of Stockholm, Sweden, checked extensively on this interesting question. He found that it was possible for a man of 92 years of age to become a proud papa. Dr. Belonosskiss was unable to find a man who was too old to become a father and at the conclusion of his investigation said, "In the human male there is no biologically established limit at which the reproductive function of his reproductive glands ceases."

The Coogan family own the site of the Polo Grounds and leased it to the N.Y. Giants for many years. Gordon Coogan now lives in New Jersey. No longer interested in baseball he is a regular at the Freehold Raceway, harness horse track. The Giants will play their last baseball game at the Polo Grounds this year. What was the most exciting ball game ever staged at the Polo Grounds? My nomination is one game play-off for the pennant between the Giants and the Chicago Cubs in 1908. The Cubs won by a score of four to two. Mathewson pitched for the Giants. Jack Pfeister started for the Cubs and was relieved by "Three Fingers" Mordecai Brown. Many other sporting events besides baseball games took place at the Polo Grounds. How about the topper in excitement in those events? My nomination is the Dempsey-Firpo fight in 1923.

Queries from clients. Q. What is this country's oldest automobile manufacturing concern? A. Oldsmobile. Incidentally, it was in 1905 that Gus Edwards and Vincent Bryan wrote the hit song titled "In My Merry Oldsmobile." Q. For what organization did "Diamond Jim" Brady work as a salesman? What did he sell? A. Brady was connected with the firm of Manning, Maxwell and Moore. The first item he sold successfully was a hand saw used for cutting steel rails. After that he sold a variety of railroad supplies. He worked on commission only. It is said that at times Brady's commissions on sales totaled as high as $20,000.

GET IT RIGHT

Among the Biblical quotations which are constantly subject to misquotation is "Money is the root of all evil." The quotation appearing in I Timothy 6:10 is "The love of money is the root of all evil." That is an observation with a radically different meaning. Mark Twain once amended it to read "The lack of money is the root of all evil."

GREAT LOVER

Note Lord Byron referred to as "The 19th Century's greatest lover." Perhaps Byron was a great lover but he was also something of a cad and heel. He often kissed and told. And when married spoke disparagingly of his wife to other people. Only a very low grade heel does things like that.

BLACK MARKET

The French government is reported unable to eliminate the dealers in black market currency. Mussolini, confronted with a similar difficulty in the 1930s in Italy, established legislation which made death the penalty for dealing in black market currency. That stopped it.

Zihlman Wins, 10-4, Cuts Hyndman's Lead To One Game

Grantsville Is Victor, 5-2, On Perry's Homer In Tenth

Bishields Bags 8th In Row; Barreille, Centerville Score

PEN MAR LEAGUE

Hyndman	21	8	Grantsville	14	13
Barreille	20	7	Mt. Savage	10	14
Zihlman	20	7	Wellersburg	8	18
Centerville	14	13	Flintstone	0	24

It's a fight to the finish in the Pen-Mar Baseball League pennant race. That was made certain yesterday when Zihlman trounced Hyndman's Merchants at Zihlman by the score of 10-4 and the Barreille Old Exports extended their winning streak to 12 games by trimming Wellersburg at Barreille by the score of 5-2.

Hyndman's lead was shaved to one full game over Barreille and Zihlman, tied for second place.

4th Place Teams Tied
Both Grantsville and Centerville registered Sunday victories and remained deadlocked for the fourth place playoff spot.

Grantsville scored three runs in the 10th inning to sink Mt. Savage, 5-2, while Centerville's Reds crushed the winless Flintstone Farmers at Centerville by the score of 14-5.

Final games on the schedule next Sunday are: Hyndman at Wellersburg, Mt. Savage at Centerville, Zihlman at Grantsville and Barreille at Flintstone.

Bishields Now Is 8-0
George Bishields stopped Hyndman from sewing up the pennant yesterday. He held the league leaders to six well spaced safeties and fanned four in making his record 8-0, the best in the circuit this season.

Zihlman rapped Glenn Evans and Jim Leydig for an even dozen blows. Harold Hudson collected three of the hits and Rickey Harris, Jack Skidmore and Bishields had two each. Harris collected a two-bagger and also a homer while Paul "Bubbles" Thompson and Tom Dunn smacked doubles. Two of Zihlman's hits were credited to Lehman. Elites had a two-base wallop to his credit. Denny Shuck excelled at short for Zihlman.

Barreille, unbeaten since July 4, when Zihlman turned the trick (5-1), hammered the offering of four Wellersburg pitchers for 16 hits to extend its long winning streak.

McGregor Injured
George McGregor received credit for the win, his third against one loss, but he failed to finish the game. George was struck on the elbow by a John Witt pitch in the 8th and was forced to retire in favor of Woody Woodson who finished on the mound for the Old Exports. Jim McGregor had started on the mound and was replaced by George in the 7th. Joe Glass, the second of four Wellersburg hurlers, took the loss.

This game was decided in the 8th inning when Barreille, trailing 5-3, exploded for eight runs by coupling five hits with two walks and a hit batsmen. Ronnie Cage blasted a triple and Woodson banged a double during the big inning.

Johnny Horwath was the big

Hermanettes Divide Pair

Lose Nightcap, 6-5 Beat Lebanon, 9-1,

The Lebanon (Pa.) Cedarettes eked out a 6-5 decision over the Old German Hermanettes in the second game of a girls' softball doubleheader yesterday at Post Field after the home team had taken the opener by the score of 9-1.

Cumberland had the tying run on third base with one away in the 7th inning of the nightcap and the game ended in a double play when the runner left the base too soon after a catch of a fly ball by a Lebanon outfielder.

Rose Bowers turned back the Cedarettes in the opener by yielding only six scattered hits. She aided her cause by belting a two-run homer. Dot Heavner accounted for two of the Hermanettes' four safeties. Lebanon's only run was registered in the third inning when Second Baseman Bensing hit for the circuit.

The Hermanettes outlived the Pennsylvanians in the second game, 10 to 6. Dot Heavner, who started on the mound for the Hermanettes, was the loser, and was relieved by Bowers in the fourth.

Rose went the route for the Keystone Staters and starred at the plate with a homer and single. Aurenz connected for a pair of safeties. "Ducky" Lease homered and singled and Heavner collected two one-base knocks for the home team.

By splitting the twin bill the Hermanettes made the season record 6 wins and 14 losses. The locals won a twin bill at Lebanon earlier in the season. Scores:

noise for the Old Exports with four hits in five official trips. Cage rapped a triple and single and John Yaider also garnered a pair of bingles. Paul Stickley's running catch in deep centerfield of Jack Brant's bid for an extra base hit in the 8th inning was the fielding gem.

Cessna, Joe Glass, Emerick and Jimmy Morgan shared eight of Wellersburg's 10 hits. John Witt starred at third base for the losers.

Perry's Homer Wins
Junie Perry's three-run homer to left-center in the top of the 10th inning was the blow that broke a 2-2 deadlock and sent Mt. Savage down. Perry also walloped a triple while Bob and Jim Keister and Buckingham obtained two hits each.

Earl Gracie went the route for the Garrett County Sluggers and struck out ten. Lefty Folk was the loser. Bobby Lennox smacked a two-bagger and single to pace the Mt. Savage stick wielders.

Deremer Posts Tenth
Glenn Deremer became the first league pitcher to win ten games when he turned back Flintstone at Centerville as the Farmers lost their 26th game in a row. The hard-working Centerville veteran has lost nine games. He scattered eight hits, fanned ten and issued one base on balls. Clindestin, Flintstone pitcher, now is 0-5.

Manager Mel Nee's club racked up a dozen blows, including a circuit belt by Gary Reeder, a three-bagger by Homer Reese, a triple and single by Nee and two singles each by Dave Rose, Hite and Mickey.

Clindestin was the big man at the plate for Flintstone with a homer, double and single to his credit. Scores:

Rogers Hornsby Frisco Beats Redskins In 27-20 Battle

Covers Farm System, Draft And Television

CHICAGO, Aug. 25 (AP)—Outspoken Rogers Hornsby today disclosed he has recommended to congressional investigators of baseball that the draft of players be unrestricted and major league farm systems be drastically curtailed.

Hornsby, one of the all-time great hitters and a big league managerial nomad, announced he expressed his views on baseball's current investigation by a congressional subcommittee, in an unsolicited letter to its chairman, Rep. Emanuel Celler (D-N.Y.).

His letter suggested as cures of baseball's ills:

1. Unrestricted draft of players.
2. Restricting broadcasts of any major league games outside its own territory.

3. Elimination of "extensive" farm systems, and permitting a major league club to have control of not more than 40 players—either directly or indirectly—through minor league ownership or affiliates.

4. Reduction of major league active rosters from 25 to 23 players.

5. Inclusion of minor league players, umpires and "all former professional ball players" in the major's player pension plan predicted on radio and TV fees for the All-Star Game and World Series.

Senators Drop Pair To Tribe

Cleveland Winner By 3-2, 6-4 Scores

CLEVELAND, Aug. 25 (AP)—The Cleveland Indians won twice from the Washington Senators today, dropping the visitors into last place.

Trailing by two runs, the Tribe came up with three homers for a 3-2 victory in the opener and mathematically eliminated the Senators from winning the pennant. Catcher Jim Hegan provided the winning homer.

The nightcap score was 6-4, as the Tribe kept hammering away after overcoming another two-run deficit. Cal McLish limited Washington to seven hits, but had to have help in the ninth from Ray Narleski, who retired the side with the bases loaded.

In the first game the Washington club's two-run lead came from an unearned run in the third and an earned tally in the fifth. Milt Bolling's double and an error by Chico Carrasquel manufactured the first, and Bob Usher's single plus Pete Runnels' double accounted for the second.

But in the seventh the Tribe tied the score on home runs by Gene Woodling, his 15th, and Al Smith, his tenth. Hegan's winning score, his third homer of the season, came in the eighth.

SAN FRANCISCO, Aug. 25 (AP)—Quarterback Y. A. Tittle's passing brought three touchdowns and he scored a fourth as San Francisco's 49ers defeated the Washington Redskins 27-20 today in a National Football League exhibition.

A crowd of 24,781 in Kezar Stadium watched the 49ers come from behind with two touchdowns in the final quarter, the first of a 54-yard pass play from Tittle to end Clyde Conner.

Sam Baker kicked two field goals for Washington, one from 22 yards away; the other from 22 yards. Ateson scored the first Washington touchdown on a 2-yard smash. Maglie Stops Cards In 9th As Brooks Win

Whiffs Ken Boyer In 6 To 5 Contest

BROOKLYN, Aug. 25 (AP)—Sal Maglie came on in the ninth and fanned Ken Boyer on three pitches with the bases loaded today, putting down a two-run St. Louis rally and saving a 6-5 victory for the Brooklyn Dodgers.

Maglie's two-run homer off loser Sam Jones and the Dodgers kept piling up runs that proved just enough. Drysdale, the Dodgers' top winner, gained a 13-7 record, but gave way when three consecutive singles trimmed the Brook lead to 6-3. Ed Roebuck took over, but left in the ninth with two on, a run home and two out.

Sandy Koufax was the third Dodger pitcher, but walked the only two men he faced, forcing in the other run and leaving the bases loaded for Maglie, making only his second relief appearance of the season.

Venturi Bags $6,000 Prize At Milwaukee

13-Under-Par 267 Wins Open Tourney

MILWAUKEE, Aug. 25 (AP)—San Francisco's Ken Venturi, who says he just plays golf to win and lets the money take care of itself, today captured the $35,000 Milwaukee Open Golf Championship with a 13-under-par 267 for his second straight tournament victory.

The 26-year-old auto dealer, who turned pro last November, fired a 2-under-par 68 over the 6,355-yard Tropic Golf Club course to claim the $6,000 top prize in the 72-hole event.

Matching strokes with 16 of the 18 leading PGA money winners, Venturi carded rounds of 68-66-65 to go with his windup 68. Only a week ago, Venturi took the St. Paul, Minn., open with a 22-under-par 266. Tropic's par is 35-35-70.

Two Tied For 2nd
Deadlocked for second place with 272s were Al Balding, Ontario, Canada, and Sam Snead, 47-year-old campaigner from White Sulphur Springs, W. Va.

Snead sank a 5-foot putt for a birdie 3 on the 375-yard 18th hole today for a 66 and a tie with Balding, who had a 68. They divided $7,000 in prize money.

In a three-way tie for fourth place, good for $3,600 to be divided among them, were Howie Johnson, Houston, Texas; Bob Rosburg, San Francisco, and Paul Harnery, Worcester, Mass. They finished up with 276s for the four rounds. Johnson shot a one-under-par 69 in the finale while Rosburg and Harnery took 70s.

Ken's Earnings $18,460
Al Venturi increased his official PGA golf earnings for the year to $14,211 and his overall paycheck to $18,460 for all events, including non-PGA co-sponsored events.

Playing conservatively today, Venturi carded only three birdies. He sank birdie putts of 5, 5 and 7 feet on the 8th, 10th and 11th holes. He never was in serious trouble today.

Balding had rounds of 33-35 while Venturi turned in nines of 34-34. Snead, whose putter was usual gave him the miseries, put together two rounds of 33. Snead blew putts of five feet on each of the last two holes of the front nine.

Gas Light Post Tops Frederick In Legion Final

Washington Takes Regional Title, 7-5

PARKERSBURG, W. Va., Aug. 25 (AP)—Washington, D. C., rolled to a 7-5 victory over Frederick, Md., today behind Frank Campana's six-hit pitching to win an American Legion regional baseball tournament here.

Gas Light Post 44 of Washington now moves into a sectional event at Elkton, Md., Wednesday. Frederick had beaten Washington 1-0 last night to make today's payoff game in the double-elimination play necessary.

Two singles, a double, an outfield error and a third single gave Washington three runs in the bottom of the first today, and Francis Scott Key Post of Frederick never was able to catch the District champions.

Frederick picked up single tallies in the second and third, with the first run set up by a two-base outfield error and the second by an infield miscue coupled by Dave Meadows' single, an infield out and a wild pitch.

Washington piled ahead 7-2 with a run in the fifth and two in the sixth.

Frederick's only big inning against Campana, winning his second game here as he fanned five and walked none, came in the eighth when the Maryland titlists broke loose for three runs.

Bernard Warrentz' single and a wild pitch started the rally. Dave Meadows singled Warrentz home, then scored himself on Don Brown's triple. An infield out plated Brown.

Frederick 011 000 030—5 6 2
Washington 010 012 003—7 10 2
Rick Zimmerman, Dick Smith (6) and Dave Meadows; Frank Campana and Jim Schwab.

Trout To Get Trial On Pacific Coast

CHICAGO, Aug. 25 (AP)—The Baltimore Orioles announced today that Paul (Dizzy) Trout, 42-year-old former ace pitcher of the Detroit Tigers, will be given a tryout with Vancouver in the Pacific Coast League.

"If he does all right out there," said Manager Paul Richards, "we'll buy him back soon, because it looks like he might be able to help us in short relief appearances."

Trout has been out of the major leagues since 1952 when he quit for an announcing job he thought offered more security. But in recent batting practice stints, he has impressed Richards and most of the Orioles with his stuff.

Giants Whip Redlegs, 10-1

Collect 14 Hits, Gomez Wins 14th

NEW YORK, Aug. 25 (AP)—Don Mueller blasted a pair of home runs and added two singles, driving in three runs today while right-hander Ruben Gomez won his 14th with a six-hitter as the New York Giants clocked Cincinnati's Redlegs 10-1 and clinbed within four games of the first division.

Ruben, who gained his 15th complete game, tops in the NL, struck out eight and had a shutout until Ed Bailey slugged his 17th homer to lead off the ninth. It was the first home run in eight games for the Redlegs who matched the major league record last season.

The Giants, battling to quit the second division before they flee New York for San Francisco next season, hammered five pitchers, starting with loser Hal Jeffcoat, for 15 hits, including a home run by Danny O'Connell, who had three hits and also drove in three runs.

Mueller got the Giants started with his fifth home run in the first inning and singled home the first of two in the third.

Chisox Trin Oriles Twice, Trail Yanks By Four Games

Keegan Hurls Three-Hitter And Wins, 6-2

Superb Relief Job By Rookie Fisher Takes Second, 3-0

CHICAGO, Aug. 25 (AP)—The second-place Chicago White Sox closed in on the New York Yankees today by tripping the Baltimore Orioles, 6-2, and 3-0, behind Bob "No-hit" Keegan's three-hitter and a superb relief job by rookie Bill Fisher.

The double victory extended Chicago's winning streak to six games and pulled the Sox to within four games of the New York Yankees who will open an all-important three-game series at Comiskey Park Tuesday night. The Yanks lost to Detroit, 7-2, in a single game.

Keegan, who hurled a no-hitter against Washington Tuesday night, retired the first 10 batters he faced before Bob Boyd tripled and scored on an infield out. Al Pillarick's seventh homer in the fifth inning and a harmless ninth-inning single by Bill Gardner was the extent of Baltimore's attack.

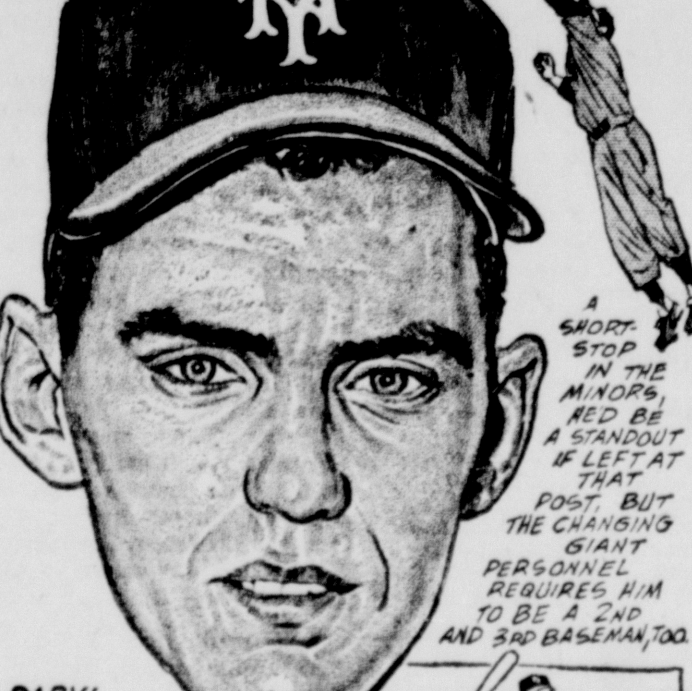

Keegan didn't walk a man and struck out four in posting his ninth victory in 15 decisions.

Jack Garshman started the second game for the Sox but retired after two innings because of a strained back muscle. Fischer came in and blanked the Orioles the rest of the way on five hits while the White Sox, baffled for five innings by Bill Wight, broke loose for three runs in the sixth with Sherm Lollar's bases-loaded single snapping the scoreless tie.

Four Double Plays Help; Kaline Clouts Pair 2-Run Homers

DETROIT, Aug. 25 (AP)—Hot hitting Al Kaline had a perfect day at bat, including a pair of two-run homers that carried the Detroit Tigers to a 7-2 triumph over the New York Yankees today before 37,157 spectators.

The 22-year-old outfielder cracked his 15th and 16th home runs, the first one off Bob Turley and the second off reliever Al Cicotte. Kaline now has hit 10 home runs this month. He added a pair of singles to the Tiger attack.

Southpaw Billy Hoeft scattered eight hits, surviving a rocky start, for his sixth victory.

The Yankees' Mickey Mantle hiked his batting average two points to .376 in his torrid battle against Boston's Ted Williams for the American League batting championship. Mantle collected two singles in three official appearances.

Hank Bauer's leadoff home run, his 14th, gave the first-place Yankees a one-run advantage. But Hoeft settled down quickly and yielded only an unearned run in the third inning the rest of the way. That run resulted from a dropped third strike by Detroit catcher Red Wilson. He let Gil McDougald's called third strike get by him. McDougald went to second when Mantle walked and scored on Bill Skowron's single to center.

The Tigers supported Hoeft with sensational fielding, reeling off four double plays.

Elbie Changes Mind

OLEAN, N.Y., Aug. 25 (AP)—Elbie Nickel, veteran Pittsburgh Steeler end who announced his retirement at the close of last season, will play with the team again this year.

Nickel sat on the Steeler bench at Akron, Ohio, last night and watched them lose 28-13 to the Cleveland Browns in an exhibition game.

During a talk with Steeler Coach Walt Kiesling after the game, Nickel decided to play one more season. He has played in the National Football League 10 seasons.

SPORTS GRILL

By PAT ROBINSON

NEW YORK, Aug. 25 (INS)—Middleweight champion Ray Robinson probably will have his ears pinned back by the New York State Athletic Commission tomorrow.

Robinson has threatened that he will not fulfill his contract to fight Carmen Basilio Sept. 23 and declared he doesn't care if the commission suspends him.

Julius Helfand, chairman of the commission, may be in a mood to do just that, especially since Robinson went over Helfand's head to Gov. Averell Harriman.

It's hard to imagine a fighter having the nerve to demand of the governor of a great state to see to it that he gets "justice." Of course, the governor said the commission would take care of him.

His plea for "justice" comes with particularly bad grace in view of the fact that Robinson already has run out on more than a score of fights, leaving promoters holding the bag.

Helfand undoubtedly will point out that the contract he seeks to break is a regular commission contract duly signed before Helfand himself.

This contract calls for Robinson to get 45 per cent of the net gate receipts and 45 per cent of radio, theatre TV and movies. Robinson's beef is over the theatre TV contract and he threatens to sue the IBC.

Larry Atkins, "veteran" Cleveland promoter, had a similar experience with Robinson. He had guaranteed Robinson a flat $25,000 plus $2,500 for training expenses to meet Jimmy Doyle.

The day before the fight Robinson demanded to be cut in for some of the radio receipts or he wouldn't go through with the fight.

"Robinson told me he'd sue," said Atkins. "And darned if he didn't. Well, I began to get tickets turned back, and I could see the gate being cut even if he did finally decide to fight."

One of Robinson's henchmen said the other day that Robinson has some idea in the back of his head that he could go to France for a year and fight there.

But, promoter Jim Norris is determined that Robinson won't fight anywhere if he doesn't first fulfill his contract to fight Basilio.

A's Home Runs Sink Bosox, 3-2

Gorman Is Victor Over Tom Brewer

KANSAS CITY, Aug. 25 (AP)—Home runs by Vic Power, Hector Lopez and Woody Held gave the Kansas City Athletics a 3-2 victory over the Boston Red Sox today.

Tom Brewer, who had defeated the Athletics 14 straight times, was the loser. Tom Gorman was the winner, holding Boston to six hits.

Held homered in the bottom of the ninth after Boston's Pete Daley had tied the score with a circuit blow in the top of the inning. Boston's other run was scored in the fourth inning on a walk to Jackie Jensen, a wild pitch and Ted Lepcio's single off the left field fence.

Ted Williams, who entered the game with a .381 batting average, failed to get a hit. In four appearances at the plate he hit into a double play, drew a base on balls and flied out twice.

NO PEEL! NO BLISTER! HOUSE PAINT

Cochran Hold-Tite is a long wearing No Peel, No Blister, breather type, medium gloss, mildew and fume resistant house paint. Equal to or better than the highest quality paints on the market.

LIKE LOUVERS-IT BREATHES

What Happens After Painting

The places scraped or bled off and painted with Hold-Tite breathe and act as louvers or vents. The moisture present in the house comes out through these spots (louvers) in the form of vapor, drawn out by the sun. This is the same principle as if you had actually drilled holes and put louvers in your home. These spots (louvers) will help relieve the moisture pressure on the entire exterior surface of the house, even including where the old paint has not been removed. Hold-Tite acts like the human skin-lets water vapor out but does not let water in.

Keeping Up With Hollywood

by Louella Parsons

HOLLYWOOD, Aug. 25 (INS)—I am reliably informed that Grace Kelly, Princess of Monaco, is not averse to returning to motion pictures, and Lew Wasserman, of MCA, is already in Europe to discuss this little matter with her.

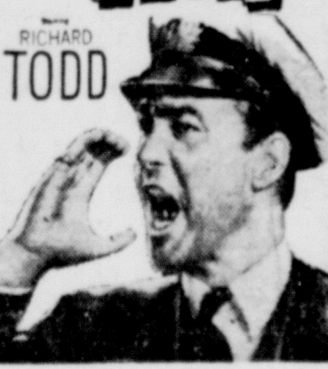

She would form her own company, the Monaco Film Company, and to save face with the Prince she would give ten percent to the Monacan government. MGM, who holds her contract, would of course release the pictures.

Grace and her Prince need money, I am told, and whatever arguments they may or may not have had, have come from the usual difficulties — finances. I hear through the grapevine that any trouble with the Prince actually stems from a disagreement with Grace's mother, who has kept the father, John Kelly, from giving any money to his Princess daughter.

The most incredible naval exploit ever attempted!

Frostburg Man Victim Of Drowning

Eugene Jeffries Dies As Motorboat Sinks In Lake

A motorboat ride on Deep Creek Lake ended in tragedy yesterday when a 21-year-old Frostburg man drowned.

The body of Eugene Clement Jeffries, 45 East Main Street, was recovered from the calm waters of the lake about 4:30 p. m. by Carlton Hinebaugh, member of the Oakland Volunteer Fire Company.

Dr. James Feaster Jr. of Oakland, acting medical examiner said death was due to drowning. Authorities said the accident occurred about 10:30 a. m. as the victim was riding in a motor boat with Lewis Airhart, 22, and Paul McKenzie, 21, both of Frostburg.

Two Others Rescued

The boat apparently developed a leak, and the craft filled with water and sank. The other two passengers in the boat were rescued by an unidentified man in another boat.

Jeffries, who was the father of a six-months-old child, was pulled from a depth of from 25 to 30 feet of water approximately 60 yards from the shoreline.

Mr. Hinebaugh pulled the victim's body to the surface with a grappling hook which caught on Jeffries' T-shirt.

Sheriff James E. Frantz, of Garrett County, a deputy sheriff and State Police Tfc. Robert D. Henline were called to the scene as were the volunteer firemen from Oakland.

About 30 to 40 boats took part in the search for the victim's body. The drowning occurred along the lake front in the area of the Thousand Acres farm.

Was Truck Driver

The victim was employed as a truck driver and worked for his father, who operates a coal mine in the Frostburg area. He was a son of Clement and Margaret (McKenzie) Jeffries, of RD 2, Frostburg.

Surviving besides his parents and daughter are his wife, Mrs. Irene (Hileman) Jeffries, formerly of Lonaconing. Also surviving are seven sisters, Carolyn, Janice, Doris, Wanda, Judy, Linda and Susan Jeffries, and two brothers, Russell and Richard Jeffries, all at home.

The body will be taken this evening to the home of Mr. and Mrs. Stewart Steele, Fugate Street, Lonaconing, parents-in-law of the victim.

A funeral service will be conducted at the residence Wednesday at 2 p. m. by Rev. Carl Price, pastor of Lonaconing Methodist Church.

Interment will be in Frostburg Memorial Park.

Guardsmen Prepare For Field Exercises

INDIANTOWN GAP, Pa., Aug. 25 (P)—Nearly 2,000 National Guardsmen of the 29th Infantry Division leave by truck at dawn tomorrow for three days of field exercises in the hills west of this sprawling military reservation.

The troops—the 115th Infantry Regiment from Towson, Md., and the 29th Reconnaissance Co., from Berryville, Va.—will sleep in tents during their three days out.

Also leaving the garrison tomorrow for additional firing exercises will be the division artillery, equipped with 105 and 155-millimeter howitzers.

Other units will remain stationed in garrison although taking field exercises during the day.

Rose Bush Produces Large Double Bud

A Ridgeley rose fancier spotted an oddity while picking Japanese beedles off his rose bushes the other evening.

Sylvester H. Martin, 145 Main Street, discovered a large double bud at the end of one stem. Both buds were large and well formed. They were entirely separate from each other except for one folded petal which was shared between them.

Fort Cumberland Will Be Subject Of TV Movie

A Hollywood camera crew is coming to Cumberland to shoot scenes for a forthcoming television film which will stress the roles of Lt. Col. George Washington and General Edward Braddock at Fort Cumberland.

One of a series to be entitled "American Treasures," based on the French and Indian War, the film also will relate the ill-fated expedition to Fort Duquesne.

The Cumberland Chamber of Commerce, which has prepared material for the film, said high-light scenes will include George Washington's headquarters located at Riverside Park, the site of the old fort, and Willis Creek.

Downpour Ends Drought In Most Of State

'Million Dollar' Rain Saves Crops

BALTIMORE, Aug. 25 (P)—A rainfall which fell on most sections of Maryland today was hailed as "a million-dollar rain" for the state's parched farmlands.

Dr. Paul E. Nystrom, agricultural extension director for the University of Maryland, said at College Park:

"For all practical purposes, the drought is over. This is just what was needed; a steady rain, falling slowly enough so that it all didn't run off."

The drought already had destroyed many crops but the rainfall of up to 1.8 inches was still welcomed by farmers of Southern Maryland and the Eastern Shore.

The heaviest fall for an 11-hour period ending at 6:30 p. m. today, as reported by the Weather Bureau, was 1.84 inches at Waldorf in Southern Maryland. The fall was 1.13 inches at Frederick but tapered to only a trace at Cumberland in Western Maryland.

The situation was mixed on the Shore. Easton had .83 inch while Salisbury had only .19 inch. The Weather Bureau said a warm front had hit the Salisbury section, cutting short the rain.

State Police at Waterloo and Easton said slippery conditions on the Chesapeake Bay Bridge caused four minor accidents in 20 minutes. In Baltimore Harbor, some longshoremen were put out of work by the rain.

The rain figured in one fatality. Mrs. Mary E. Richards, 66, was fatally injured in a collision on rain-slicked streets of Baltimore.

She died today in Mercy Hospital of multiple injuries received a few hours earlier in a collision of a car driven by her husband, Dr. William R. Richards, and another driven by Donald K. Gelnett, 22, of Millersburg, Pa.

Dr. Nystrom, although conceding there was no hope for crops already ruined by the drought, said today's downpour proved to be a "Godsend" for those not yet destroyed and those still to be planted.

Other rainfall figures from the Weather Bureau included .56 inch at Conowingo in Northern Maryland, .87 at Rockville, .90 at Pikesville, .43 at Towson, .75 at Randallstown, 1.04 at Waterloo and .30 at Benson.

State House Receptionist Says Foreigners Know American History Better

Foreign visitors to America know American history better, as a rule, than natives, according to Mrs. Dorothy P. Bartlett of Severna Park.

Mrs. Bartlett is in a position to know. She is senior receptionist at the State House and for five years has represented the Department of Information in the Capitol Building. It is her job to see that visitors get taken care of, and a large part of the care-taking is answering questions.

The foreigners, she said, seldom betray ignorance of the State House's place in national history. Americans all too often do.

"It is a routine thing," she said, "for Americans to ask us between the resignation and his election.

Clarysville Firemen Are Building

Work on a new cement block building to house the fire fighting equipment of Clarysville Volunteer Fire Company is nearing completion.

John Fatkin, president of the company, said last night it is expected to be completed within the next few weeks. The one-story building will have a brick veneer front and will be equipped with two electrically operated front doors.

Being built at a cost of about $13,000, the 48 by 40 foot structure is located off U.S. Route 40 to the rear of Clarysville Motors, and is in the vicinity of the present two-story fire hall.

The new building will house the company's 500-gallon Ford pump and a 1,500-gallon Dodge tank truck which was purchased this spring.

When the building is finished and the trucks housed in the new quarters, the space now being used for one of the trucks will be used for storage. The company now has a fire hall which has facilities for meeting of the volunteers and the auxiliary, and also recreation facilities.

The new building will have an oil heater. The building work is being done by Fuller and Sons of Frostburg. The volunteers are now awaiting the roofers to complete their portion of the work.

Democrats Air Varying Views On 'Harmony'

Leaders Seek Lost Success Formula

OCEAN CITY, Md., Aug. 25 (P)—Maryland Democrats wound up a three-day meeting here today, after a weekend which saw plenty of talk about the possibility of a statewide "harmony" slate for next year.

Officially, it was the annual meeting of the United Democratic Women's Clubs of Maryland. But party bigwigs and other menfolk turned out, as usual, for the political pow-wow.

Despite the soundings for solidarity, in a search for a success formula lost after 1946, the Democrats had almost as many ideas on achieving it as there are candidates and potential candidates.

Here are some of those ideas, as expressed by top party leaders:

H. C. Byrd

1. Dr. H. C. Byrd, Democratic candidate for governor who's trying again—"We have come to a place where matters relating to the Democratic Party should be thrown on the table, brought out for public gaze for consideration of the rank and file to see if some way cannot be found to resolve serious party difficulties."

Byrd said he was going to invite candidates and leading potentials to meet with him to "ascertain if we cannot reach definite and final conclusions as to a plan to bring success to the Democratic Party in statewide elections."

Millard Tawes

2. J. Millard Tawes, state comptroller who also has filed for the gubernatorial race—"It is my purpose to build support for my own candidacy, but it will be equally my purpose to build stature and integrity of the Democratic Party in the eyes of all of Maryland, so that when general election time rolls around fellow citizens of Maryland can say 'That is the party of responsibility.'"

Mayor D'Alessandro

3. Baltimore Mayor Thomas D'Alessandro, considered a very probable candidate for the party's nomination for governor—"Candidates (in the primary) must avoid to conduct their campaign on a plane befitting their party with emphasis on truth and dignity. . . . If they fail to do so, the Democratic nomination will not be worth a nickel."

As for a primary fight, D'Alessandro is for it. "The water's warm," he shouted as the Democrats roared. "Jump in it boys and girls. I like a crowd in the fight."

Sen. Goldstein

4. Senate President Louis Goldstein (D-Calvert), all set to run for Tawes' job as comptroller—He said he wants all candidates to move about the state and meet the people for the next few months. Then in the fall, he said, the Democratic State Central Committee could be called together to select a statewide Democratic ticket for 1958.

Michael J. Birmingham, Baltimore County executive, told about 400 party members at the final session today that he would not be a candidate for elective office next year. But he made it clear he would continue to play a role in Democratic politics—both county and state—"for as long as I live."

Birmingham said that when his term ends late next year he intends to devote full time to his post as Democratic National Committeeman for Maryland. He also said he expects to take part in formation of a Baltimore County "harmony" ticket to put in the field against the Republicans.

More Women Needed?

Earlier this weekend, the women's group told the men there should be more women in the government.

Mrs. Mildred Otenasek of Baltimore, president of the organization, told a luncheon meeting the minimum would be one woman from each county and one from each of the Baltimore districts in the House of Delegates—plus a 50-50 representation on county and district Democratic committees.

Mrs. Otenasek also said she looked forward to seeing a woman assistant attorney general and a Congresswoman.

In another development, Bruce Campbell of Baltimore County wrote Tawes that at 64 he's "over the hill" as far as running for governor is concerned.

New School Near City Is Complete

Few Odd Jobs Still Remain

Northeast Elementary Allegany County's new $373,777 school on Forest Avenue just off Valley Road at Bowman's Addition, is certain to be ready for occupancy when the new school term begins September 5.

C. Edward George of the George Construction Company, general contractor for the new school, said the project is now virtually complete. A few doors have to be hung, a little landscaping work outside the building still remains, but to all intents and purposes the school is finished.

Some of the furniture for the new facility was being unpacked and assembled there Saturday morning. All of the furniture is scheduled for delivery no later than this week.

"Cafeterium" Largest

Largest room in the new school is located just to the left of the main entrance. It is an all-purpose room which will serve most of the time as a cafeteria. However, on occasion the cafeteria tables will be removed and folding chairs are used as the room is converted into an auditorium.

A large stage spreads across about two-thirds of the rear wall. The office of the principal, faculty rooms and four classrooms are located on the first floor. Another four classrooms are on the second floor.

The lower grades will be situated on the first floor and these youngsters will use the blacktopped play area in front of the school during recess time. Upper grades will be on the second floor and they will go out an upstairs door at recess time to an athletic field at the rear of the school.

Skidmore Is Principal

Raymond Skidmore, former teacher at West Side School, will be principal of the new school. Superintendent of Schools Ralph R. Webster has appointed six teachers for the school.

Teachers for Northeast include Mrs. Joan Kidwell, Miss Delores May Brown and Mrs. Willard Riggs, all 1957 graduates of Frostburg State Teachers College; Miss Margaret Burke, formerly at Virginia Avenue School; Miss Betty Hinsman, formerly of John Humbird School, and Mrs. Joyce Fike Growden, formerly at Cresaptown School.

Between 190 and 210 boys and girls are expected to attend the new school. They have been going to West Side and Columbia Street schools.

1958 Soil Bank Will Seek Lower Acreage

The "soil bank base" to be established for each farm included under the 1958 acreage reserve program is an attempt to limit the total acreage of harvested crops and thus prevent more surplus, according to James H. Weimer, chairman of the Allegany County Agriculture Stabilization and Conservation Committee.

Farmers participating in the acreage reserve program will agree to limit their harvest of soil bank base crops, the chairman explained. These base crops, in general, will be all crops produced for harvest on a farm except hay crops.

In addition to the "basic" crops—such as wheat, corn and cotton—the "soil bank" crops include such as the grains, annual grasses cut for seed, oilseeds, cowpeas, potatoes, commercial vegetables, field and canning peas and beans.

Wheat farmers have until October 4 to sign an agreement to take part in the 1958 winter wheat acreage reserve program.

Since the soil bank base will be determined from the past production history of the farm, growers are asked to bring along pertinent information when they call at the county office.

Payments under the 1958 winter wheat program will be based on an average county rate of $21 per acre, adjusted for the individual farm, primarily according to relative productivity.

Young Hunter Wounds Self With Own Gun

Fred Taylor, 18, Is Shot In Head

Fred S. Taylor, 18, of 38 Bealls Lane, Frostburg, accidentally shot himself in the head while groundhog hunting yesterday morning. He was reported in "good" condition at Miners Hospital.

Maryland State Police said the accidental shooting occurred northwest of the city limits of Frostburg about 8:30 a.m. as Taylor and two companions hunted groundhogs near an abandoned strip mine.

Authorities said Taylor laid the butt of a .22 calibre rifle on a log and the weapon discharged. The bullet entered the left side of his face and lodged between the skull and scalp behind his left ear.

The two companions with Taylor at the time of the shooting were Alfred Kammauf and Russell Nine, also of the Frostburg area. Trooper J. H. Sweitzer investigated.

Westernport Man Shot

Meanwhile Lowell Michael, 22, of 101 Poplar Street, Westernport, is reported in "satisfactory" condition at Memorial Hospital after undergoing surgery Friday night for the removal of a bullet from the lower part of his abdomen.

Tic. Milton Hart, of the Maryland State Police and Albert W. Bernard of the Westernport Police Department investigated the shooting which occurred Friday evening about 10:45.

Trooper Hart said he plans to question Michael when his condition permits.

Authorities said the victim apparently shot himself with a .22 calibre target pistol in the kitchen of his parents' home. The young man was found on the kitchen floor.

Wife Heard Cries

Trooper Hart, who questioned the victim's wife, said that Michael was taking her to her home in Lonaconing from the Potomac Valley Hospital in Keyser where she had been a patient.

Before going to Lonaconing Michael stopped at his parents' home. Mrs. Michael, according to police, was still out in the car parked near the house when she heard her husband scream.

She went to the porch and found him on the kitchen floor. Police said she didn't know why the shooting occurred.

Michael, an employee of the Street Department of Westernport, resides at his parents' home with his wife.

4 Teen-Agers Hurt In Crash

Three teen-agers were hospitalized and a fourth sustained minor injuries in a one-car accident Saturday night at Springfield.

Admitted to Memorial Hospital were Miss Phyllis Bergdoll, 16, Springfield; Robert K. Wolford, 17, Points, W. Va., and Miss Ruby Largent, 19, of Levels, W. Va., who has been released. Treated was Clayton Haines, 21, Points, owner of the vehicle.

Attaches said the two patients are in "good" condition, and that X-rays will be taken.

Miss Bergdoll sustained severe back injuries and was in an unconscious condition when admitted to the hospital. She is a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Willard Bergdoll of Springfield.

Miss Largent suffered abrasions on her knees and legs and complained of back and neck injuries. She is a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Hetzel Largent of Points.

Wolford, son of Mr. and Mrs. William L. Wolford, injured his back and suffered a possible fractured rib.

West Virginia State Police at Romney, who investigated, said Miss Largent was driving the vehicle and apparently lost control of the car along State Route 28 at Springfield.

Police said the car left the left side of the highway, struck an embankment and came to rest in a ditch.

Haines was thrown from the vehicle, police said, and escaped with only minor injuries.
